Broadcasting's
decision to force
their stations to
air an anti-Kerry
documentary days
before the election
is a clear example
of the dangers of media consolidation.

As I grew up, the responsibility of
medial outlets to
air opposing
viewpoints equally,
was clear. In the last few years it
appears that the FCC
has been less
vigilant in
requiring stations
to be impartial in their reporting and
use of airtime.

Please return to a
protection of fair
play on the airways.
